Will Vatican City run on solar power?

A letter entitled 'Brother Sun' laid out the pontiff's plans. Pope Francis has renewables on his mind as he says he wants Vatican City to run on solar power. To achieve his aim, solar panels will be installed on a Vatican-owned property outside Rome. The power generated could supply all of Vatican City's energy needs.

How will the Vatican's new energy system work?

According to the Vatican's press office, the installation will apply the most advanced solutions currently available, balancing clean energy generation with the preservation of agricultural use, the region's hydrogeological stability, and the protection of its cultural and archaeological heritage (ZENIT News / Rome, 08.01.2025).-

Why is Maasin Diocese installing solar panels?

The Maasin diocese was recognized as the first in the world to equip its churches with solar panels. By installing solar panels in our 42 parish churches, the diocese will try to avoid 191 metric tons of carbon dioxide emissions over the next 25 years through the generation of solar power.

Is the agrivoltaic project a fruit of Pope Leo XIV?

The agrivoltaic project is one of those "good practices" Pope Francis called for in his encyclical a decade ago. Yet it is also a fruit of the new pontificate. Pope Leo XIV, continuing and expanding the green path charted by his predecessor, has given the initiative fresh momentum.

The project aims to meet the full energy needs of both the Vatican State and Vatican Radio using solar technology integrated with agricultural activity.
